Remember when we told you that Freshpair.com would be celebrating National Underwear Day all month long? As part of the festivities, Freshpair.com is giving away a $50 gift certificate to one very lucky reader of The Lingerie Post! I know I've got your attention now – here's how to enter: go to Freshpair.com and pick out your favorite pair of panties. Need some inspiration? Check out Freshpair's Staff Picks page. Once you have picked your style, just leave a comment on this post with either a link to the panties, or the name of the style. The last day to enter is August 31st – after that, a random winner will be picked and the gift certificate will be on its way. (Be sure to leave a valid email address, because that is how we'll be contacting you!)

Be sure to check out the official National Underwear page and see all the National Underwear Day celebrations, including great discounts and chances to win underwear makeovers and trips.
