HARD-HITTING NEWS: Wednesday is "National Underwear Day."

That just about says it all.

Sadly, I don't anticipate much local celebration for the day, which is orchestrated by Freshpair.com.

In New York, however, models sporting only undergarments will take to the streets Wednesday in honor of National Underwear Day.

And some people say Valentine's Day is a made-up holiday.

Information, if you really want it: www.nationalunderwearday.com.
