New Yorkers are not short of things to do this weekend. Let's roll away from our computers and TiVo and celebrate what little time we have left with the summer by hitting these New York events.

1. Tuesday marks National Underwear Day with a variety of events including a runway show hosted in Times Square.
2. Pick up an artist-made T-shirt at Printed Matter's event on Saturday and stay for the after-party, providing free Tiger beer, ice cream and hair cuts.
3. For some Afro-beat and playtime in the sun take the ferry to Governor's Island this weekend for Giant Step's free outdoor concert series, In the Pocket.
4. Sugarhead Quarters is hosting a Shopping' and Popping' event on Saturday in honor of their glorious summer sale. Free beer and Red Bull is provided.
5. As always, the first of the month means museums will be hopping with music, dancing and films. Catch the African Underground Allstars tonight at the Queens Museum of Art.
