National Underwear Day kicks off in grand style!

There are red carpet events and then there are RED CARPET EVENTS! We think HOT models walking around in their underwear and fitness wear puts this event into the latter category!

This year is the 6th anniversary of National Underwear Day and what was previously held on the streets of Time Square, is moving indoors to the glamorous venue Espace in New York . Five hundred VIPs, celebrities and international taste makers will join Michael Kleinmann, President of Freshpair.com to celebrate! Actress and fashion maven Lydia Hearst will be the host of the 6th Annual National Underwear Day. Model Tyson Beckford will also be making a special appearance.

Check out some of the other scenes from the opening last night after the jump!
